REEVE MOVES TO PROTECT PROSPECT ST.

HEAVY TRAFFIC POUNDING
STREET TO PIECES, REEVE
STATES

VALE COUNSELS CAUTION

Co-operation of the Toronto and York Roads Commission in an effort to divert through traffic from Prospect St., was asked in a resolution moved by Reeve F. A. Lundy at a town council meeting on Monday evening.

"Prospect is a residential street," said Mr. Lundy. "The pavement was put down at the cost of the citizens whose properties abut on it. Traffic has got into the habit of using Prospect in preference to the county highways. The big transport trucks tear through there all night."

"Before long that street will have to be rebuilt, and I don't think that the property-owners should be saddled with the cost."

"I don't think it would be a good thing to get all the traffic on Main St.," said Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale.

"I sympathize, but I know what the county authorities will say, that they will encourage use of Main St. if we will prohibit parking on both sides," said N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor.

"I think it would be short-sighted to try to make them use Main St. for they will avoid the town altogether," said Mr. Vale. "There may be some expense involved, signs to print, and it may be necessary to put a few men on for a couple of weeks," said Mr. Lundy. "My idea is that the Toronto and York Roads Commission might bear that expense."

The council passed the resolution to enable Mr. Lundy to see what can be done.

County authorities have promised co-operation as soon as the town passes a by-law naming through streets, Mr. Lundy informed The Era later in the week.

PRETTY MAY WEDDING HELD AT KETTLEBY

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in Christ church, Kettleby, on Saturday afternoon, when Kathleen Martha, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Black, Kettleby, became the bride of Norman Wesley Greensides, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Greensides of Kettleby. The church was prettily decorated with spring blossoms and cut flowers.

The wedding music was played by Miss Gertrude Black, sister of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by the rector of the church, Rev. F. V. Abbott.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in her travelling dress of rose-wood crepe, with pin-tucked bolero jacket of Suez crepe, with white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

Her sister, Mrs. Ross Marchant, was her only attendant, wearing a frock of orchid crepe with violet accessories and a corsage of mauve sweet peas.

The groomsmen were Mr. Ross Marchant of Lloydstown.

Mr. Wesley Hindle of Cookstown, brother-in-law of the groom, acted as usher.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the members of the immediate families.

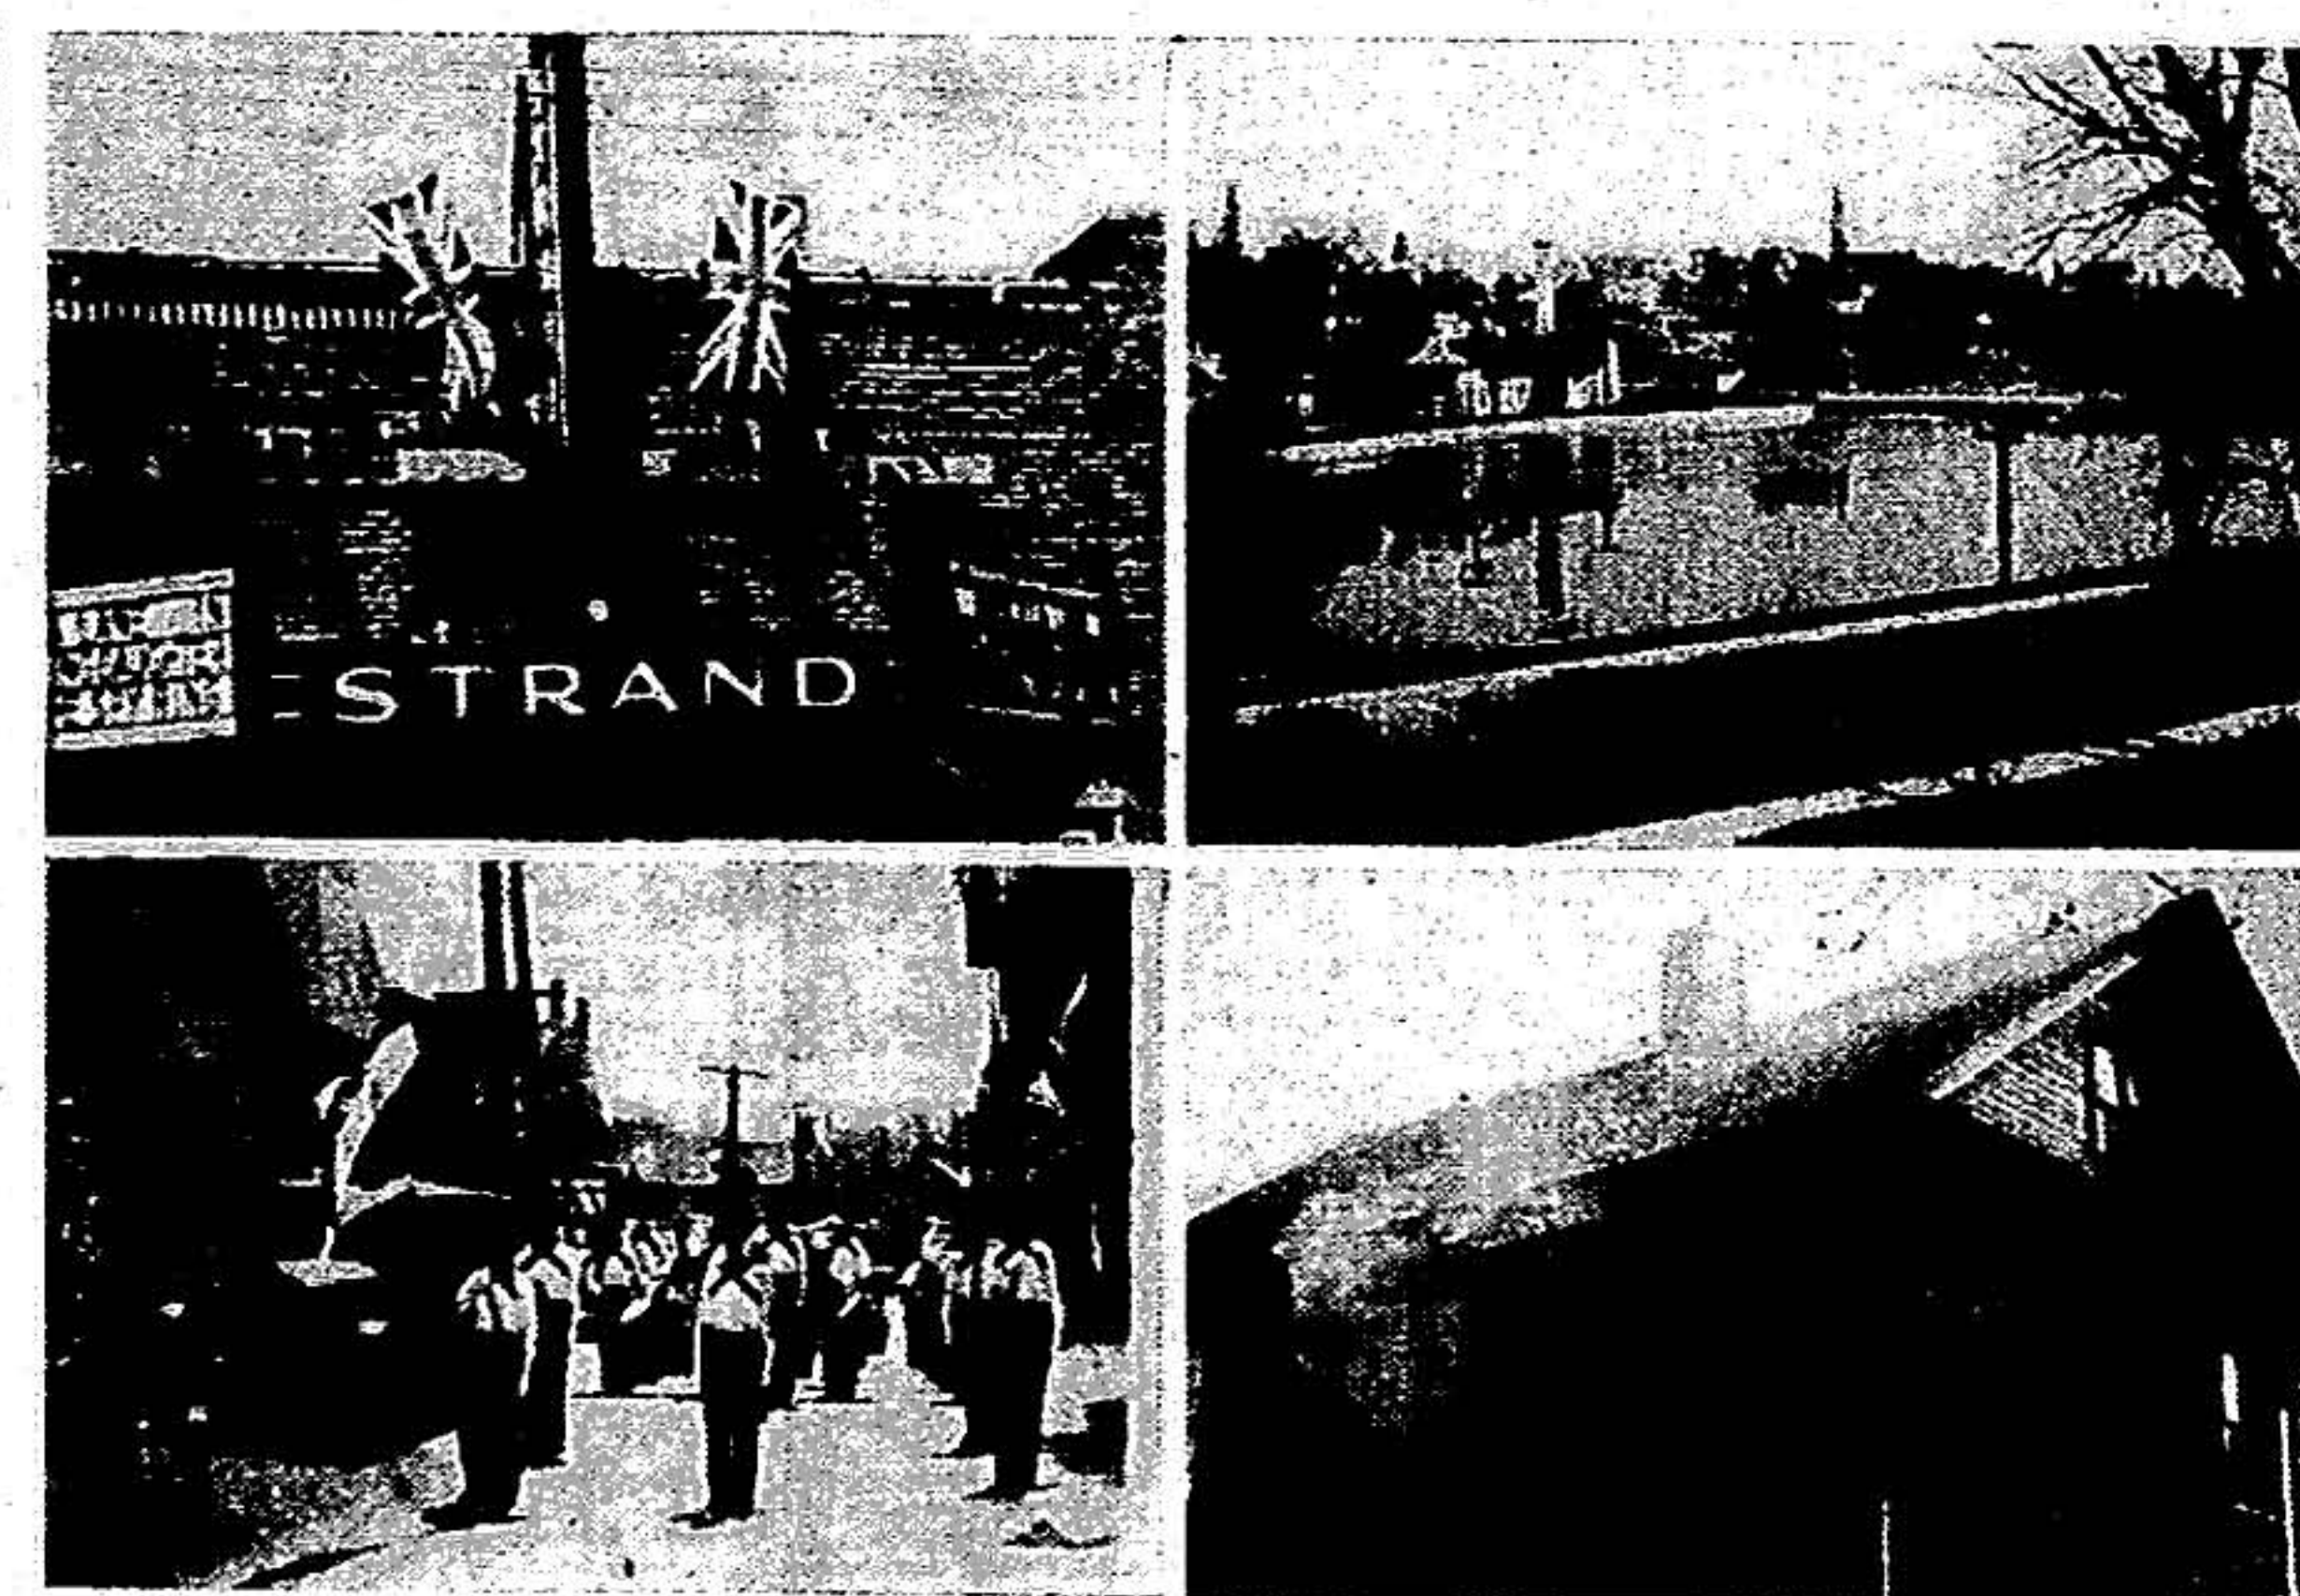

Mrs. Black, mother of the bride, wearing printed sheer and a corsage of mauve sweet peas, and the groom's mother in guardsman blue, with a corsage of pink sweet peas, received the guests.

The happy couple then left for a motor trip, the bride wearing a pink wool coat in cape effect.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Greensides will reside on the groom's farm on the fourth concession of King.

PROVIDES CHICKENS FOR ROYAL LUNCHEON

Francis Morton of Keswick is having the honor of providing 37 Jan. 15 chicks for the menu at the banquet being given at Hart House, Toronto, for their majesties, King George and Queen Elizabeth, at noon on Monday.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Johns, Doris and George, attended the funeral yesterday at Hillside of Dr. F. Hosking, a nephew of Mrs. Johns. Dr. Hosking was electrocuted on Sunday morning while using his sun lamp.

POLICE AND RELIEF

CHIEF GETS RAISE

Salary of James Sloss, chief constable and relief officer, was increased from $23 to $25 a week, on motion of Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale, at a town council meeting on Monday evening.

This followed a recommendation made by Councillor A. V. Higginson as relief committee chairman.

"He is drawing $23 a week and receives $7 a week car allowance," said Mr. Vale.

"The night constable is receiving $22 a week, and gets an extra night's work, so that he is really getting more than the chief," said Mr. Vale.

"He prepares his cases for court very thoroughly," said N. L. Mathews, K. C., clerk and solicitor.

"Seven dollars a week doesn't cover the cost of running a car," said Councillor Wm. Dixon.

"Sloss is on duty 14 hours a day," Councillor J. L. Spilllette, a member of the relief committee, spoke in favor of the motion.

RELIEF SHARPLY CUT FROM YEAR PREVIOUS

Relief in April amounted to $885.97 with 171 persons on relief, compared to $1,477.37, with 174 persons on relief, in 1938.

Councillor A. V. Higginson, chairman of the relief committee, reported to the town council on Monday evening.

This reduction, Mr. Higginson attributed largely to the work of Chief Constable James Sloss. He said that Chief Sloss should receive recognition for his work.

Mr. Higginson said that the committee had postponed cutting able men off relief one week after April 15 because of late spring.

"It was a matter of humanity," he said.

"The committee used good judgment," said Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd.

Councillor Wm. Dixon was critical of the policy of cutting off relief the heads of families, while paying relief for the families themselves, at the very time when they might be of use to the town.

REFUSE REQUEST FROM SALVATION ARMY

Accounts passed at a town council meeting Monday evening included: Geer & Byers, $11.25; Ray W. Jelley, $22.81; C. Gerald Walman, $3; Treasurer of Ontario, public hall license, $3; Kenneth Mount, $5.75; D'Arcy Miller, $17.50; Mrs. J. O'Brien, $1; E. V. Phillips, $1; Imperial Hurn-Main, $8.16; Best Drug Store, 15 cents; The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, $23.61; Newmarket Era, $5; G. Johnson, $24.75; C. Case, $20.

Adjutant Jack Batten of the Salvation Army asked a contribution to the Self-Denial campaign. There had been no budget provision for such a gift, said Reeve F. A. Lundy. The council refused the request.

ATTEND POLICE SCHOOL

Here are a few pointers from Alf Smith and Victor Bridges, Newmarket veterans, who attended a session of the Toronto police school in preparation for constabulary duties on Monday during the visit of the king and queen.

"Now to those driving down, it is advisable to be there early and so avoid the heavy traffic, and also to be sure of a place to park the car," they say.

"From Bloor to Queen on Yonge, and each side of Yonge, to church on the east side and Simcoe on the west, will be blocked off at 5.30 a.m. Monday."

"Fleet St. will be open and will only close when their majesties will be returning from the Woodbine. It will not close all day, as has been reported."

"The coronation route was four and a half miles long and four million people saw the procession. Toronto has provided a 28-mile route, so that everyone can see their majesties without crowding. It was suggested by Inspector Dunne that those seeing them once be satisfied, as some will try to see them three or four times. This will cause congestion of traffic."

"Those who need information or first aid will be able to get in touch with the police in front of them. In regard to lost children, get in touch with the police including veterans with police arm-bands. It was stressed that all children should have a tag with their name and address pinned on them."

"Please bear in mind that veterans acting as police are at your service in regard to any information while you are attending the royal procession."

MERCHANTS DISPLAY RED, WHITE AND BLUE

The town's most elaborate royal visit decorations so far are to be seen at Bill White's Red Indian service station. A tremendous quantity of flags and bunting have turned this place of business into the red, white and blue service station. Among early decorators were the Strand theatre, the Bank of Toronto and Klees meat market.

FIRE STARTS FROM ATTIC STOVE PIPE

Fire did about $75 damage to a home on Simcoe St. on Sunday afternoon. There was also considerable water damage. The double-house belongs to Wm. Davis, Guelph. Geo Davis occupies part of it. The other side is occupied by Mrs. Chas. Page.

The fire started from a smoke-pipe in the attic and got into the roof. The alarm sounded at 1.15 p.m. Chief W. W. Osborne and his brigade had the fire out at 2 p.m.

Following the fire it was found impossible to move the truck. The gear-shift was ineffective, and the fire-fighting equipment was transferred to one of the town trucks temporarily.

NOTICE GIVEN OF GARDEN PARTY DATE

The date of St. John's R. C. church annual garden party has been decided upon for Wednesday, July 19. Arrangements are now under way to make it even better than any former year.

AYRSHIRE HERD GOES ON BLOCK SATURDAY

A complete dispersal sale of Dr. J. H. Wesley's Ayrshire herd takes place at Ayrshires Farm, Yonge St., on Saturday afternoon. The sale has been widely advertised and is expected to draw a large number of buyers. Forty registered animals are being offered for sale, according to the catalogue.

The sale includes Saragany Safe-guard, the three-year-old herd sire. He was first in his class and junior champion at Lachute, P. Q. spring fair in 1937.

GUIDES ENTERTAIN SCOUT TROOP

The First Newmarket company, Girl Guides, held their regular meeting on Monday and they entertained the town troop of Boy Scouts. There were 40 Scouts and Guides present. The meeting opened with horseshoe formation with colors for the singing of God Save the King, then the Scout Promise and the Guide Promise.

Several games followed, then lunch and songs around the campfire, and the evening closed with taps.

Tree planting by Guide companies across Canada will celebrate the king's birthday on Saturday, May 20. The ceremony will be at 3 p.m., at the Lions Park, John St. entrance. Everyone is welcome. Guides are asked to meet at R. S. A. hall at 2.30 p.m.

Sunday, May 21, the company will attend the United church morning service at 11 a.m. Guides are asked to meet at the R. S. A. hall at 10.40 a.m.

PUBLIC ADVISED TO BUY TICKETS EARLY

In view of an expectation of heavy traffic to Toronto for the royal visit on May 22, those going to Toronto by bus for the occasion are urged to buy their tickets and signify their intention to the Gray Coach agent on or before Friday.

SOCIAL CLOSURES Y.P.U. MEETINGS FOR SUMMER

Newmarket Y. P. U. members to the number of 30 were entertained on Monday evening, May 15, at the home of Percy Deavitt, Glenville, to a Court-Whist party. This was the last weekly meeting until September.

The prizewinners were Mrs. Robert Gibney, Charlie Purchase and Miss Dorra Travis.

Among the guest artists will be Frank Blatchford, violinist with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra. The choir will sing a Bach Chorale, Mozart's triumphant "Gloria in Excelsis," and the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah." The program will be under the direction of Adelmo Melecci, leader of the choir.

DISCUSSED

EVANS MAKES STATEMENT

The town is claiming $14,000 from the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission as an over-charge for power supplied to the town under the town's special contract, made originally with the metropolitan radial company, and later taken over by the Ontario Hydro, Councillor Arthur D. Evans, chairman of the water and light committee, informed the town council Monday evening.

Apparently certain terms of the contract had been overlooked or forgotten, and did not come to light until the recent survey by an electrical engineer.

ERECTS AERIAL TOWER

Joe Gladman, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gladman, who recently graduated from the Radio College in Toronto, has erected a 40-foot aerial tower in his father's yard on Gorham St. The tower, which is painted grey, has Joe's call letters for short wave broadcasting, VE3AXN, in large red letters.

Mr. Evans informed the council that at the next meeting he would bring in a recommendation for the purchase of a new switchboard and a new truck for the department.

According to the report tabled at the previous meeting, "substitution including switchboard, lighting arrangers, spare circuit and alterations to the building," would cost $9,000, and a new truck would cost $1,000.

Captured By Chief Sloss, Three Convicted By Jury

THREE YOUNG MEN GO TO JAIL AS RESULT OF
SPENCE DEATH

One man was found guilty of reckless driving and all three were found guilty of car theft by a jury hearing charges laid as a result of the death of Wm. Spence six weeks after being thrown through the doors of The Era building on Jan. 10, in assize court in Toronto on Tuesday.

The men were charged with manslaughter as well. Mr. Justice Hogg advised the jury to find two of the men not guilty of manslaughter on the ground that it had not been established that they were in the car at the time of the accident.

Richard Phillips was found guilty of reckless driving and was sentenced to 18 months in the Ontario Reformatory. For car theft he was given 15 months concurrent. Albert Smith and John Lake were given 15 months each for car theft.

Evidence was given by Chief Constable James Sloss, Constable Kenneth Mount, Miss Gertrude Mills, Mrs. Olive Rutledge, Norman Williams, Dr. L. W. Dales, one of the attending physicians, Dr. J. C. R. Edwards, who performed a post-mortem, R. S. Lauria, Milton Howlett, D. W. Evans, Bogartown, was not called.

The trial began on Monday afternoon and was concluded on Tuesday afternoon. W. B. Common, crown counsel, said that the men had previous records.

Chief Sloss told how he left the scene of the accident to search for the hit-and-run drivers and they asked him for a ride at Eagle and Yonge Sts. He took them into custody for questioning. He found that the stolen car belonged to Jim Lee Hoy.

Mr. Keller was a farmer on the second concession of Scott, and he and Mrs. Keller retired from their farm and built a home in Zephyr about two and a half years ago. For several years Mr. Keller was a school trustee. He was a member of the Menomonic church.

The funeral service was held on May 12, and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Goudie, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lehman and Rev. Mr. Hallman. Interment was made in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Particulars concerning the special train taking the school children to Toronto on Monday follow:

1. Special train will leave Newmarket Monday, May 22, at 3.25 (Daylight Saving Time), arriving at the Dufferin St. entrance of Exhibition Park at 4.45 (D.S.T.).

2. Arrangements have been made to have guards meet the train and to conduct the children to the allotted area. The plan indicates that the area to be occupied by the Newmarket students is particularly well located.

3. Their majesties are scheduled to arrive at the Western Entrance of the Exhibition Boulevard at 6.10 p.m. (D.S.T.) and will proceed slowly past the areas allotted to the school children.

4. Every child should be provided with some sandwiches or lunch, as it will be necessary to be at the Exhibition grounds for over three hours. The return train will leave Dufferin station at 8.30 p.m. (D.S.T.).

5. Parents will facilitate matters if they will emphasize to their children the importance of staying with their group and doing exactly as instructed by those in charge.

6. Every pupil who possibly can is requested to carry a Union Jack of convenient size.

7. When the special train pulls into Newmarket from Allandale, adults going by the train will help matters considerably if they will permit the pupils and those in charge to be entrained first.

8. Present indications are that 560 pupils and teachers will go by the special train. As there will be accommodation for at least 700, this means that 140 adult tickets will be on sale by the local ticket agents.

9. The public and separate school pupils are to assemble Monday in their own schools at the time specified by their teachers, when they will receive their railway tickets and identification tags. They will then go in a body from their respective schools to the station.

10. High school pupils will receive their tickets to-morrow (Friday) or may secure them Monday at the station platform at the time specified.

FATHER WILL BE ON ROYAL TRAIN

Word was this week received by Mrs. G. N. T. Widdington, Prospect St., that her father, James McDonald, has been chosen as the conductor on the royal train which will take the king and queen and their party over the last division of their journey, across Canada, from Kamloops to Vancouver, a distance of about 250 miles, on May 29.

Mr. McDonald has completed 41 years of service on the C.P.R.

TEACH CHARTY, SAYS FIRST LADY PREACHER

The duty of mothers in the education of their children, was stressed by Rev. Lydia Gruchy, first woman to be ordained in the United Church of Canada, in a mother's day service at Trinity United church on Sunday morning.

The church had just been redecorated and was attractively set off with a display of spring flowers. Rev. R. R. McMahon conducted the service. Miss Gruchy preached the sermon.

"Mothers must teach their children the will to peace," said Miss Gruchy. "They must teach their children an understanding of the needs of other people, and of the people of all races. They must teach them the needs of whole families living in single rooms on the barest necessities."

"They must give their children an understanding of the needs of unemployed men who have no homes at all. They must give their children an understanding of the needs of people in China, and in central Europe, and of the needs of homeless refugees in central Europe."

"I seem foolish to turn it down when the water main is going right past the door," said Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale.

"They should pay more than town people," said Councillor D. O. Mungovan.

"They should pay part of the cost of the main," said Mr. Dixon.

"The rate includes the interest on the debentures," said Councillor A. D. Evans.

"That's correct," agreed N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor.

THURSDAY, MAY 18TH, 1939

SIR WILLIAM AND THE REUNION

Newmarket's most distinguished "old boy" is Sir William Mulock, chancellor of the University of Toronto, former chief justice of Ontario and former postmaster-general of Canada. He is the honorary president of the old boys' reunion committee. We trust that plans will be made so that he may be the first to register at the opening of the reunion and that this may be made into quite a little ceremony. It would be nice to have the reunion opened with the ringing of a school bell, and the calling of a class to order, with Sir William Mulock in the very front seat! Sir William has attained a great age, but he has never lost his interest in life. He still has his shoulder to the wheel of life. He is continually going out of his way to show courtesies to others.

A Courtesy

The Era has been indebted to Sir William for kindnesses on several occasions, letters of encouragement, recently the gift of a book which proved interesting material for these columns, and now a copy of the Falconer lectures delivered recently at the University of Toronto by Earl Baldwin. It is said that Baldwin was successful as a politician because, while really clever, he had the gift of making the masses of his fellow countrymen regard him as an average man, doing just about what they would have done. Whether it is cleverness or common sense, there is a lot of good stuff in these Falconer lectures and we mean to draw from them for one or two articles for these columns. This little courtesy of Sir William Mulock's is just another evidence of his abiding interest in Newmarket and his old riding of North York and his desire to share with others the good things which he himself enjoys. Thank you, Sir William.

THEY ALSO SERVE

A map of the C.N.R. lines was submitted to the senate railway committee last month showing which lines were profitable, which earned an operating profit only, and which did not earn even operating expenses. From a business or investment viewpoint the map is rather dismal. About 4,000 miles (1937 figures) are profitable, about 4,000 pay operating expenses and about 14,000 miles do not pay operating expenses.

Few There Be

The line passing through Newmarket is not profitable, for instance, but pays operating expenses. The profitable lines are few and include: Winnipeg to Edmonton; Winnipeg to Port Arthur; Winnipeg to Nakina; Nakina to Capreol; Ottawa to Coteau Junction; Detroit and Port Huron to Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal; Montreal to Diamond Junction (Intercolonial); Diamond Junction to Moncton (National Transcontinental); Moncton to Halifax (Intercolonial).

Roads and Schools Cost Money Too

This leaves a lot of lines, including such trunk lines as Edmonton to Vancouver (with little high-way competition), in the unprofitable class, but it must be remembered that the unprofitable lines have contributed to the income of the profitable ones, feeding traffic to them. The Edmonton to Vancouver line made an operating profit, but nearly 14,000 miles of railway did not even earn expenses. It might seem, from the point of view of the owners of the C.N.R., a good thing to close down all railways which did not earn operating expenses, but it is not, of course, that simple. As already mentioned, such railways may be important feeders for more successful lines, and, as pointed out by the Winnipeg Free Press, such railways may be contributing to the wealth of the country. The Free Press cites the line to the Flin Flon and Sherrett-Gordon mining fields. "That line cost $9,000,000 and it is losing money every year. But it has led to an annual production of $25,000,000 of new wealth. Would anyone close up the lines to other industries, or to farming districts into which many settlers have gone?" The Free Press states that 60 per cent of Canada's wealth is produced in territory served by the Canadian National. In other words, the Canadian National may contribute to the national wealth far more than the amount of its annual deficit.

CO-OPERATIVE DIVIDENDS

Now that the co-operative grocery store has closed its doors in Newmarket and returned to Aurora to repair its fences, there might be an inclination to say that retail co-operatives are a failure. The purpose of a co-operative business is to reduce costs to the consumer, to pass back to the consumer the profits of the business. This is achieved not through share dividends, but through patronage dividends dependent on the amount of business which the customer has given the store. In other words, the store says: "You pay our regular prices and if at the end of the year we find that we have charged you too much we will return the profit to you." The usual practice is to adopt the price level of competing businesses and to hope that there will be a profit to return to customers. The merit of the patronage dividend, compared to the share dividend, is that it brings business. A shareholder in a business will not ordinarily give his patronage to that business if he can buy more cheaply or more conveniently elsewhere, because the profit on his purchase will not come back to him but be divided between himself and all other shareholders. The patronage dividend principle is better.

Human Dividends

Apparently, however, the Newmarket store did not make a go of things, and we understand that at the same time the previously successful Aurora store received a disappointing set-back. One might expect that to discourage the Aurora co-operators and cause them to quit. But evidently they are more moved by an enthusiasm for the re-making of the world than they are by the desire for profits out of their business, for we note a news item telling of plans of the women's co-operative guild, an auxiliary to the Aurora store, for establishment of a child health clinic. If they continue in this direction, they will find themselves reaping patronage dividends that "moth and rust do not corrupt."

NEW STAMPS

As is well known, members of parliament have the privilege of "franking" their mail for free carriage, but this week the editor of The Era received from W. P. Mulock, M.P., an envelope plastered with the new royal visit stamps and postmarked "royal train." The sheet of notepaper within just indicated who the sender was but gave no further explanation. The envelope goes into the family stamp collection.

CONGRATULATIONS TO CHIEF SLOSS

The town council gave Newmarket's chief constable a small increase in salary on Monday evening. Several members of the council spoke in favor of it, and each had something to tell of Chief Sloss' excellent service to the community. He has won the respect of all citizens, and works without regard to clock or whistle. Some of the credit for his selection, we believe, must go to the town's ex-reeve, Dr. L. W. Dales. We are glad to see a town employee meriting promotion, and receiving what he merits, but we don't like the primary reason given on Monday evening for this promotion, namely, that he had cut down relief costs. No doubt Chief Sloss was busy carrying out his duties efficiently, and he is entitled to credit for it, but the fact remains that this country (and that includes us all) treats some of its lowliest citizens abominably.

A Word About Relief

It is true that some of these citizens do not show much initiative, but we should remember that they are the product of the education, treatment and opportunities which we have given them. And with our present relief system they do not benefit from any initiative they do show. If they get a couple of days work, they lose that much relief. They are penalized. Our unemployed and many of our employed are without decent homes, adequate food, proper medical and dental care, suitable educational and recreational opportunities, and the chance to live their own lives and call their souls their own. They are barred from these things by extravagance, waste and too much competition in our economic system, and by public and government apathy and inaction. There is no excuse for unemployment in this rich land of tremendous natural resources. A reactionary wave has set in at the present time, with the emphasis on armaments and defence, giving a breathing-spell to selfishness and wealth, but the tide will turn again. People will not be satisfied indefinitely with present economic conditions, with some babies born little millionaires destined to rule and others born little economic slaves destined to obey. There will have to be great modifications in our system. In the meantime, let us not look too harshly on the supposed "no-goods" and let us not be too severe in our meting out of that subsistence allowance known as "relief."

"The Poorest He"

We criticize the system. We do not criticize Chief Sloss. In fact, our contention has been that relief should not be his work at all. Relief work and police work should not be combined. Entirely different training and qualifications are desirable for the two jobs. And relief homes should not be subjected to visits from a uniformed police officer. We like a quotation from Earl Baldwin's Falconer lectures, kindly sent to us in book form by Sir William Mulock: "Really I think the poorest he that is in England hath a life to live as the richest he."

NOT ANSWERED YET

Councillor Arthur D. Evans, chairman of the water and light committee, told the town council some time ago that he had asked Mr. McClymont, the electrical expert, to report on the personnel of the town electrical department. The principal question was whether Mr. Rachar was a profitable investment for the town. Mr. McClymont's report has been tabled, but except for one or two incidental commendatory remarks concerning aspects of Mr. Rachar's work, the promised report has not been forthcoming. Did Mr. McClymont make a verbal report on personnel, and what was the nature of it? Some weeks ago The Era ventured to commend Mr. Rachar's work, and drew a letter of disagreement from a reader. We would be interested to know the expert's answer.

HEART OF EMPIRE

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Everything that has life—that works or exists, has to have a heart—a core—an organ through which the life blood flows, whether it be of people or things.

We speak of some great corporation or organization as being a "heartless concern"—and we are wrong.

Maybe it's a hard heart, but a heart it must have nevertheless, and through that heart runs the life blood which keeps that business alive.

Just as the body stops functioning when the heart is stilled, so would any concern stop working, if the stream of orders, telephone calls, cable dispatches, and letters, which are its life blood, were to cease to flow through its core.

From the tiny, gleaming humming-bird to the great stately eagle—which has been the symbol of power from when its image started out over a world dominated by Roman Caesar's legions to now when the American eagle symbolizes liberty and equality—tiny humming-bird and eagle, alike, are dependent on the strength of their hearts.

The great trees that tower above us, and give us of their shade, and enrich our landscapes with their beauty, die, if their heart is diseased and their flow of life blood drained away.

The little streams that run through our meadows, imitating the great rivers with their tiny waterfalls and rapids, as well as the huge rivers which bear great cargoes of men and merchandise through our lands, are dependent on their hearts—the springs which send the life blood flowing.

The tiny mouse and the great hippopotamus alike, would give up the ghost when the heart failed. There have been many religions in the world—each with a core—a heart—without which they would not have lived for a day.

What would the Mohammedan religion be if the memory of Mahomet died? But the memory of him is the life blood of Islam, and is kept flowing by the teaching of the Koran, by legend and by word of mouth.

The heart of the Hindu religion is Brahma, of the Buddhists, Buddha, and the Chinese, Confucius. Without these hearts and the teaching that flowed through them, all these religions would be dead. The heart of the universe is God, believed in, in some form, by every race and the great, warm, loving heart of Christendom, is Jesus Christ.

There is hardly a beneficent organization in the whole world that does not owe its inception to Christ's command—"thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

We all fail—people and nations—to live up to it—but the ideal is there, and as long as ideals remain, some will strive toward them, however blindly—and a few people, in dead earnest, have been known to change the course of history.

And then every nation must have a heart, if it is to live.

If the life of the nation is to be healthy, the heart must not be diseased—it must beat strongly and steadily.

Some nations just now have hearts which miss beats, accelerate and slow down, in such rapid succession that whole nations have heart failure, and the by-standing nations search frantically for a physician with a remedy equal to the task of relieving their distress.

And the British Commonwealth of Nations has a heart as vital to its well-being as only a heart can be.

Through it flows the life blood that keeps the members active, co-ordinated and healthy—and that heart is—the king!

A young woman came into our home not long ago, and noticed a fine picture of His Majesty which I had cut from a magazine.

"I wonder if you would give me that picture?" said she, and assenting, I was curious enough to ask why she wanted it.

"Because I'll soon be far from home among people who care no more about the head of their state than about someone they read about in a novel or biography—he's only a name. One of the people in the land to which I'm going back, said to me—'It must be lovely to be the head of your country. Why should we want a picture of our ruler—he isn't a permanent; we have no interest in him, except insofar as his policies agree with ours—and often they don't—and if he were put out of power tomorrow it wouldn't cause us a tear.'"

"As she spoke," went on my friend, "I thought of the death of George V. To most of us, it seemed as if a member of our own family had died—there was genuine mourning for a man who was truly a father of his people."

And now, Canada's King is coming to her—the heart of the empire will beat within her borders and the life blood of true patriotism will flow more freely through this far flung dominion. Yes, there must be a heart in empires, as in people. We have the king—God Save Him!

MERRY TAKES HER TURN

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"You guard the eggs for a few minutes, Young Chips," commanded Merry Chickadee of her mate. "I'm going out to get a real mouthful of food. I haven't taken time to eat enough so far today, and I'm sure I haven't had more than 150 insects and I always like to consume upwards of 250 a day to feel really fit, or else the equivalent in insect eggs—which would mean two or three or four thousand. You needn't worry that I'll stay away too long. You're the only one that does that."

"Go ahead," Young Chips told her cheerfully. "I'm quite capable of looking after things for a while."

Merry flew off into the woods and was soon a quarter of a mile or more from her nest. "How heavenly the woods is now," she murmured delightedly to herself. "The leaves are opening out and I never saw anything so wonderfully green. And look at the wild flowers! And the woods is simply overflowing with singing birds."

"Why there's someone I know," she exclaimed. "I'll stop here and get a bite and speak to that ideas. It was said in London that the despatch might well prove to be the key to unlock the present Anglo-Russian difficulties."

Following the peaceful note which Mussolini struck in his Turin speech on Sunday, came warlike strains on Wednesday as he ostentatiously visited the frontier fortifications near Bardonecchia, while General Alberto Pariani gave the Chamber of Fasces and Corporations a glowing account of the strength and efficiency of the Italian army.

the end, where it broadens, and beautiful black and white markings, and look at those deep orange sides of his, contrasted with the white underparts and black head and breast and tail. That wouldn't be a Blackburnian Warbler, would it? The black and white and orange suggest that."

"Oh, no, it's too big for that," the Phoebe answered. "And the orange is darker and his markings quite different. Listen to his call, and you'll know him. There he goes. His more modest, reddish brown and white mate is probably nearby."

After he was out of sight, Merry heard a clear call, repeated several times, "che-wee, che-wee, che-wee." "Why, of course, it's a Chewink, or Towhee," she exclaimed. "I should have known. And I never realized before that a really strikingly beautiful bird the male Chewink is. So I really have learned something in the few minutes I've been away. I'm sure I'll know him the next time."

"I must hurry home, now," she added. "My husband will be sorry he missed seeing these birds that we've seen. Good-bye for now."

FOX FARMER FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Convicted on a charge of reckless driving, Michael J. Enright, former clergyman, who now operates a fox farm south of Aurora near De La Salle college, was fined $20 and costs of $13.50, or ten days, by Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in police court here on Tuesday.

A second charge of having illegal possession of liquor was dismissed but the liquor was ordered confiscated. R. H. Greer, K.C., Toronto, was defence counsel. Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., told the magistrate that Enright had a previous conviction in August, 1933, when he was charged with driving while intoxicated and that his appeal at that time was not granted. Enright got his driver's license back in February, 1938. It had been suspended.

Mr. Greer pleaded not guilty to both the charges but said that Enright would plead guilty to speeding rather than reckless driving. The crown attorney stated he could not change the charge from reckless driving to speeding.

"On April 8 at 9 p.m. I was standing in the village of Thornhill when I saw a 1938 Plymouth coach northbound go through the village at an excessive rate of speed around 60 m.p.h., so I immediately gave chase," testified Provincial Constable Howard Jackman. "North of Langstaff the pavement is 20 feet wide with a five foot shoulder on the west and the radial tracks on the east and along here Enright overtook five northbound cars in a line. He passed the first three cars alright but on passing the fourth he met a southbound car and it had to pull over to the west shoulder to avoid being hit and to make room for the three cars to pass abreast.

"When Enright overtook the fifth car and started to pass it another southbound car came along and the northbound car was forced to pull over upon the radial tracks. I followed Enright's car and clocked him at 60 m.p.h., then I stopped the car just south of Richmond Hill. Enright had a driver's license with him. When Enright got out of the car he seemed perfectly normal and showed no physical effects but there was an odor of beer on his breath.

"Have you a speed trap in Thornhill?" asked Mr. Greer. "No," answered Constable Jackman.

"Why did you follow Enright north?"

"I followed him because he went at an excessive rate of speed through Thornhill."

"Was Enright's main difficulty speeding?" "I can't say that."

"Enright might have been a skilful driver?"

"I would say that the southbound driver who pulled over to the shoulder to allow Enright to pass was a good driver."

"Couldn't three cars pass alright on that stretch of road?" asked Mr. Greer.

"It would be mighty difficult and I'd hate to see it done often," answered Constable Jackman.

"If he had gone ahead and not passed all the cars you would have just charged him with speeding?"

"Yes."

"Did the second southbound car get past Enright alright?" asked Mr. Mathews. "It got past alright but the northbound car had to swerve out on the tracks as Enright tried to get back into line again," answered Constable Jackman.

The magistrate said there was sufficient evidence to require defence, so Enright was called.

"When the constable stopped me, I asked why he stopped me and he said I was speeding in Thornhill," testified Mr. Enright. "I had the dashlight out when I was going through Thornhill, so any idea I had of my speed is only an estimate. I usually try to keep to the speed limit as I go through there two or three times a week. I've seen this officer on the road several times and I know there is usually an officer at the corner in Thornhill where number seven highway turns west."

"Do you remember passing five cars in a line?" asked Mr. Mathews.

"Yes," answered Enright. "Did you ever see a sign along the highway saying do not pass over the white line?" "No."

"Did you know it was the law not to pass a line of cars?"

"Not until I heard it this morning."

"Did you pass the cars in a valley?" "No, as I couldn't have seen the five cars in a line if I had been in a valley. I thought I could have got ahead of the whole five cars and if I had cut in after passing the second or third car there would have been trouble."

"I don't think this is a case of reckless driving but merely speeding," Mr. Greer told the magistrate.

"I think he was driving in a manner dangerous to the public," stated Magistrate Woodliffe. "I think Enright's driving went beyond speeding, as there were radial tracks along the stretch, a white line, which should have been sufficient warning, and besides it is very dangerous to pass five cars in a line while meeting southbound traffic. I find Enright guilty of driving in a manner dangerous to the public."

The second charge of having illegal possession of liquor laid against Enright was then heard.

"I stopped the car driven by Enright just south of Richmond Hill," testified Constable Jackman. "Enright was wearing an overcoat with slashed pockets and as he got out of the car a bottle of beer started to tip out of his pocket. I found two other bottles of beer in his pockets and in a suit-coat pocket he was carrying a small bottle of dry gin. When I asked him about the gin he could produce no license for it. I could smell beer on his breath. He said the gin was purchased for him by a friend and that he obtained the three bottles of beer at the North York Veterans Club on his way home and that he also had a glass of beer there."

"Wasn't this all government liquor?" asked Mr. Greer.

"Yes," answered Constable Jackman.

"Had any of the bottles been opened?" "No."

"If a person were transporting the liquor from a vendor to his home in a carton that would be legal, but that is the only way it could be carried?" "Yes."

"Would you have arrested him under any circumstances if the liquor had not been in a carton?"

"Yes."

"On the Saturday afternoon before Easter I was visiting in Toronto with an old friend of mine called Mr. Buller," stated Enright. "After we had supper I invited Buller to come up to my place to spend the weekend and he agreed to come. He asked if he could borrow my car and he was gone ten or fifteen minutes. After he returned he came into the house and then the two of us went out to the car. We were just ready to start when a car drove up and Buller said it was some old friends whom he hadn't seen for several years. He said he would come up to my place the next afternoon, as he wished to see the people. I left at 7.30 or 8 p.m. and I stopped at north Toronto for a paper. When I got back into the car I found the beer bottles and the gin on the back seat of the car."

"Did you have anything to do with buying the beer and gin?" asked Mr. Greer. "No," answered Enright.

"You just put the liquor in your pockets to hide it, didn't you?"

"Yes."

"Do you know when Buller put the liquor in your car?" "No, as I didn't see him do it."

"Did you know when Buller borrowed your car that he was going out to buy some gin?" asked Mr. Mathews.

"Yes," answered Enright. "Did you see Buller bring the liquor into the house?" "No."

"Did you visit the Veterans Club that night?" "Yes, for a few minutes."

"Why did you tell the constable that you purchased the beer at the club?" "I told the constable that story because I knew the gin was covered, as it was purchased legally, but I didn't know about the beer so I said that I purchased it at the club."

"Did you know that Buller had bought the beer?" "I presumed he had bought it but I didn't know whether or not it was covered by a permit."

Wallace Buller, Toronto, stated that Enright visited him at his boarding-house and that he asked to borrow his car. "I went to the vendor's and bought a small 12-ounce bottle of gin and also a 25-ounce bottle of gin. I had three bottles of beer in my room and when I returned to the house I went into my room and got the beer and then I put the beer and the small bottle of gin in the back seat of Enright's car. Enright did not know that I had put the liquor in his car."

"Do you know where you purchased the beer?" asked Mr. Mathews.

"No," answered Buller. "Or when?" "No, I don't know when I got it, as it was some time ago."

"I think this is a matter for your worship to decide," stated Mr. Mathews. "Enright didn't purchase any of the liquor but he told the constable that he got the beer at the club and that a friend purchased the gin. The story of his accounting for the liquor is pretty far-fetched and, anyway, he had no right to have it in his car."

"Under the circumstances I will give the accused the benefit of the doubt and dismiss the charge of having liquor," stated Magistrate Woodliffe.

"I have seen a lot of pencils in evidence here today and I would like to have it noted that while I am a Catholic, my friend Buller is a Protestant and a Mason and that he is not of my faith and that he came here to tell the truth," Enright stated.

The two charges of procuring a false message and forgery laid against Ross Draper and Theodore Huxley were adjourned for further hearing another week.

A complaint of trespassing laid against Joseph Seibert, King Township, by Alex Frantzen was withdrawn by Frantzen who was ordered to pay the court costs.

On a charge of obtaining relief to the extent of $152.50 from the town of Newmarket, under false pretences, John and Enid Malloy were given an adjournment of one week.

A charge of having illegal possession of liquor was reduced to consuming and Gordon Hayes, Toronto, and Roy Faulkner, Palmerston, were each fined $10 and costs of $5 and the bottle of beer found in their car at a Mustang's Lake dance hall was ordered confiscated. The two young men, who were not present at the court, told the crown attorney that they were willing to plead guilty to consuming.

Theodore Datyeff, Toronto, no reflectors, $1 and costs, charge laid by Constable J. Jardine, East Gwillimbury.

After hearing a charge of assault laid against Orville Saunders, Newmarket, by Rex Barker, Newmarket, the magistrate bound Saunders and both Mr. and Mrs. Barker over to keep the peace in the sum of $50. The magistrate warned them to keep their children off one another's property and stated that if they couldn't get along that one of the families had better move away.

Rex Barker testified that he lived on Queen St. east and that Saunders lived next door. "I have two children and Saunders has five children. I was talking to two people on the lawn when Saunders said he wanted to show me something in his backyard. There were a lot of stones on the grass and he asked me to pick them up, so I thought to keep peace that I would pick them up. I never asked him why he wanted me to pick up the stones. He told me to keep my children on our own side of the house three or four times. Then I told him to get off my property and he knocked me down twice with his fist. I doubled, I never touched him but I heard Mrs. Barker tell him that he would pay for this."

"How long have you lived in this house?" asked Mr. Mathews. "About a year and a half," answered Mr. Barker.

Mrs. Barker gave the same evidence as her husband.

On being questioned by Mr. Mathews, Mr. Saunders stated that he had been living in that same double-house for 12 years and that he had never had any trouble before the Barkers moved in. "My wife has five children to look after and they only have two and that afternoon my wife had to chase the Barker children out of the house three times. That night when I came home there were a lot of stones, glass and tops of cans in my yard and when Barker asked his son if he had thrown the things he nodded yes. Barker came within a foot of me and punched out with both fists so I hit him twice."

Elimination rounds in the high school tennis tournament are being played off this week. Junior and senior singles champions in both the boys' and girls' divisions are to be declared.

This game has gained strength locally this year and two-bit racquets are being used as much as the high-priced variety. Tennis is one sport that tests a player's sportsmanship. He has to take his licks in stride or he's given the bum's rush.

The Aurora Cycle Club staged a successful meet a few weeks ago and is meeting to consider sponsoring another on the holiday Monday. If the race goes on it will be a 25-mile fixture from Newmarket to Keswick and back. Mickey Smith will likely be in there pedalling for top honors.

Since Monday local rod and reelers have been pulling in pike from the Bradford river. The game law slapping down a healthy fine for keeping these fish was lifted the first of the week.

The canal anglers have their own method of hooking pike. They first bait with worms the sunfish which swarm in the stream, and then fish for the big fellows with these. Lunge, still out of season, are being hooked also.

Pickering College field meet is slated for the first Saturday in June. Javelin throwing and hurdle racing are some of their events. The college athletes usually put on an interesting meet. They make it a social gathering too, inviting parents and friends to view the proceedings.

There is a mix-up in the softball arrangements for this season so far. A northern group, of Barrie and Orillia with other northern towns, which Newmarket was going to join, fizzled out, when Barrie could not obtain the services of Guilfoyle, a classy pitcher with them three years ago.

This group is now on its own and the hub town expects to join up with a south group of Fennells, Bradford, Aurora, Richmond Hill, and King City.

Joe Spillette says the association is trying to get Sutton, Markham, Uxbridge and Stouffville into another group. The winners of these groups are expected to play off. However, a meeting to arrange the schedule will likely be held early next week.

Police Asked To Check Up On Milk-Money Snatchers

RAIDS MADE ON TYLER HILL HOMES ON SUNDAY EVENING

"I would like to bring to your attention a matter of policing," Councillor C. E. Sparks told the council on Monday. "We are having some trouble with milk tickets and money being taken from milk bottles at night. There was a regular raid around town last night," Mr. Sparks stated. "Cousins Dairy suffered too."

The raids seemed to concentrate in various districts, Mr. Sparks said, and the Tyler Hill section had suffered on Sunday night.

"They even go into back kitchens, and take money from the tables," he declared.

AURORA BOWLERS HOLD SOCIAL EVENING TONIGHT

Aurora bowlers and their friends will meet for a social evening of music at the club house on Thursday evening of this week.

On Wednesday evening C. A. Malloy and M. L. Andrews were delegates from the local club to the district bowlers' meeting which was held in Markham.

With greens in fine shape the Aurora club is looking forward to its mixed tournament, which is being held on Wednesday, May 24.

"It looks like a local gang going into back kitchens," suggested Councillor Dr. E. J. Henderson.

It was decided to refer the matter to Police Chief Fisher Dunham for attention.

Council Asks Investigation Regarding License By-Law

DISCUSSION SHOWS PLUMBER'S $1 LICENSE IS NOT YET PAID

"I would like to ask concerning the pool room licenses," said Councillor C. E. Sparks, at the council meeting on Monday.

"Council was informed that two post-dated cheques had been given in payment for the pool room license," stated M. L. Andrews, assistant clerk. "One cheque came through on May 1, and it was honored. The other comes through the first of June."

"What businesses are licensed?" asked Mr. Sparks.

"Dairies and plumbers," answered Mr. Andrews. "There is a heavy license on outside plumbers and a nominal license for resident plumbers."

"Are beauty parlors licensed?" inquired Councillor A. J. Wilson.

"They pay business tax, but no other license," said Mr. Andrews. "Have all paid their licenses?" asked Mr. Sparks.

"Dairies pay $1 each, and it is paid regularly," said Mr. Andrews. "So far as I know every outside plumber has paid a license."

Councillor John Stuart contended, however, that plumbers from outside the town had come in and done jobs in Aurora without paying their license fee.

"How many plumbers have we?" asked Acting-Mayor J. A. Knowles.

"This whole thing was brought up because I have not bought a license," declared Mr. Stuart. He stated that he had not bought one because the licensing regulations were not being lived up to. "Sisman's bring in plumbers from the city, and they do not pay a license," he said. "I don't mind paying my license but it should be handled fairly. Martin Southwood found out that I had not paid my license and told all the bakers in Scanton's."

"I did not know you didn't pay your license," said Mr. Sparks.

"We have opened up something here," said Councillor Dr. E. J. Henderson, agreeing that the inquiry was not directed against any person. "I have been a party to opening it up. How about sitting down some night and bringing it out in the open?"

"I suggest that the solicitor look up the by-laws and see what license by-laws there are on our records," said Acting-Mayor J. A. Knowles.

"What is plumbing?" asked Councillor Ross Linton. "I would like to know what plumbing is."

"Start to build and you will find out," suggested Mr. Sparks.

"Mr. Southwood told every driver in Scanton's," repeated Mr. Stuart. "They thought it was a good joke."

BUILDS NEW HOME

A new bungalow is being constructed on the south side of Catherine Ave., about half a block up from Yonge St. for Jack Bodfish. The work is being done by the Aurora Building Co.

WILL MAKE REPORT ON PARKING REGULATIONS

Council will ask Police Chief Fisher Dunham to make a report on Aurora's downtown parking conditions, with a view to applying stricter regulations to cars parked too near corners, and with an eye to the possibility of restricting parking at the bus stops, it was decided Monday night.

At present the buses are often compelled to stop in the middle of the street because of the cars parked along the curb, and this, it was stated, did not help the flow of traffic along Aurora's Yonge St.

Council also considered the matter of getting Town Foreman James Goulding to do police duty in guiding Yonge St. traffic on Sunday mornings.

"Should we not have a constable on Sunday mornings?" asked Councillor Ross Linton.

"Mr. Goulding was supposed to be there," said Councillor J. Stuart.

"I think he ought to be reminded," said Mr. Linton.

"We will have some definite report from the chief constable," said Acting-Mayor J. A. Knowles.

Councillor A. J. Wilson suggested that Mr. Goulding be given extra compensation for his night work at the arena in the winter. Mr. Stuart stated his belief was that Mr. Goulding took time off the following day, when he had been at the rink past midnight. The acting-mayor thought it was a little late to bring up the matter now.

MRS. J. C. ROSS DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Born in King township of pioneer parents 88 years ago, Mrs. James Ross died on Tuesday at her home on Kennedy St., following a lengthy illness. She had been a resident of Aurora for some 25 years.

Formerly Frances Carley, she married James Calvin Ross, who taught school in this district for many years, and the couple celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary on Dec. 22. Mr. Ross, who survives, is 95.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. E. J. Ludlow, of Toronto, and a brother, George Carley. Another daughter, Flossie, died at the age of 12.

BLAZE DESTROYS BARN ON FERGUSON ESTATE

Aurora's firefighters got a night call this week when they were summoned by a passing motorist who noticed signs of fire on the J. H. Ferguson estate, formerly the Clarke farm, just south of the town.

On arrival firemen found the fire had gained an unbeatable hold on the barn, and they used water from the creek to protect the other buildings nearby. A small blaze on the roof of the house, caused by flying sparks, was quickly extinguished by smart work on the part of the firemen.

The fire, of unknown origin, resulted in a loss of between $5,000 and $7,000, it is stated.

SAYS AVERAGE FARM INCOME IN CHINA IS $30 PER YEAR

Rev. Donald Faris, returned missionary from China, preached at the Aurora United church on Sunday night. The service was held at 8 p.m. Mr. Faris' father had been an elder in the Aurora church, and his uncle, John Faris, is at present a member of the session.

"Next best to being with my mother on Mother's day, is to be in the church where she was so well known," Rev. Mr. Faris stated.

He showed a number of pictures of the missionary work in China, and told of the work being done in introducing new crops, such as corn, sugar beet, etc., to the Chinese. He had been on the farm end of the work, he stated, and their problem was to help the Chinese to help themselves.

The average farm income in China was about $30 a year, Mr. Faris said. In bringing in more modern methods, care had been taken to introduce hand machinery rather than power machinery, as the latter would deprive a great many of their means of livelihood.

The musical part of the service was featured by a euphonium solo by Bill Thompson, "The Holy City."

RE-APPOINT AUDITOR SALARY STAYS SAME

Auditor M. H. Hilborn was re-appointed at his previous salary and with very little discussion by council on Monday night.

"He has done the quarterly audit already," the acting-mayor said. "He wrote saying that he was assuming he was appointed."

"Yes," said Councillor Ross Linton. "Because he was appointed by-law."

"It is a yearly appointment," the acting-mayor said.

"I believe that he expects extra compensation for extra copies of the auditor's report," said Councillor A. J. Wilson.

It was stated, however, that although the auditor had billed the town for providing extra copies, the by-law under which he was appointed last year specified that the necessary nine copies of the report be provided.

PHOTOGRAPHS SOUGHT FOR COUNCIL WALLS

Action toward getting photographs of ex-mayors and former councillors, to hang on the walls of the council chamber, was instigated on Monday night by Acting-Mayor J. A. Knowles.

"The matter was discussed by last year's council, but nothing was done about it," the acting-mayor said. "Since then Dr. W. J. Stevenson and Ex-mayor S. C. Taylor have passed away. There are a lot of gentlemen who have given a great deal of service to the town, who are getting on in years."

"Would you take the mayors separately or with their respective councils?" asked Councillor A. J. Wilson.

"Set a date, and if we haven't received their pictures by that time, that is their look-out," suggested Councillor J. Stuart.

At the suggestion of Councillor Dr. E. J. Henderson, Messrs. Andrews and Wilson were appointed a committee to look into the matter.

QUEENSVILLE AWARDED FIVE GOLD MEDALS AT FESTIVAL

Congratulations are certainly in order again this week for the talented baritone, Terry Doane. At the York Musical Festival last week Terry was successful in winning five gold medals, in the following classes: open and closed baritone, open and closed bass and a duet. The adjudicators awarded him high marks, ranging from 81 to 85. Heartily congratulations are extended.

Mrs. H. M. Aitken's cooking school will be held in Queensville United church on Friday, May 26, at 2:30 p.m. Everyone is urged to come and see how Mrs. Aitken, internationally famous dietitian and radio personality, coaxes new tempting and delicious flavors from the simplest recipes, smart new dishes for social occasions, and hints on brightening everyday menus.

There will be smiles, songs, stories, free prizes. Both men and women interested are invited to attend.

Male Choir Sings

Mother's Day was celebrated in Queensville United church last Sunday with a good attendance. Rev. Hugh Shannon delivered an inspiring sermon. He was assisted by a male choir under the direction of the organist and choir leader, Mrs. J. L. Smith. They rendered the following numbers: as a procession, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," anthem, "Help To Make A Happy World," Negro spiritual, "In My Father's House."

There was a good attendance out to Y. P. U. on Sunday night to hear a splendid missionary program. Next Sunday evening the meeting will be in the charge of the citizenship department, using as their theme "The Royal Visit."

King's Picture To Hang In Council Room; Queen Next

COUNCILLORS DECIDE AGAINST PICTURE OF BOTH KING, QUEEN

The matter of decorating the town hall for the royal visit was brought before council on Monday night by Councillor A. J. Wilson, chairman of the property committee.

"For your information, we will have some decorations," said Acting-Mayor J. A. Knowles. "I think the flag should be put up and left up during the royal visit."

He stated that the flag could not be left up permanently because of the town hall flag pole, which was so made that it spilt a flag in a month, tearing it badly.

"Is there an adequate supply of bunting?" asked Mr. Wilson.

"There is a lot of bunting and a number of small flags," Mr. Andrews said.

A committee was named to take care of the decorations on the town hall, and if material were sufficient, to carry out decorations elsewhere.

"I suggest the colored lights be turned on now and left on for the summer," said the acting-mayor, and the suggestion was agreed to.

"I would like to have a picture of our king in the council chamber," the acting-mayor continued. He had seen a fine picture of the king seated at a desk, in the county building in Toronto, he said, and had learned that one could be purchased for $5.

"There is one in the post office of the king and queen together," said Councillor John Stuart. "Why get one of the king alone? We have a queen as well."

The camp is located at Sibbald's Point, Lake Simcoe.

Such a picture would be a credit to the council, the acting-mayor stated.

"It would be more of a credit to us than the council room is, with its antique desk and so on," said Deputy-Reeve L. K. Farr.

Dr. Henderson said he would like a picture of the queen too, but stated that the council was composed entirely of men and that ladies seldom attended. "I think we should get a picture of the king. That will be a good start," he said. "We can get a picture of the queen later."

It was decided to spend $500 on the picture suggested by Acting-Mayor Knowles.

Spending $100 To Save $1,000 Is Good Business, Says Knowles

"DANGEROUS PRECEDENT" DECLARES JOHN STUART, PROTESTING

The waterworks department, seeking a shorter and cheaper route, than that of going round the block to connect Wellington and Centre St. mains, came in for considerable criticism by Councillor John Stuart on Monday night.

Mr. Stuart claimed that in paying $100 for the right to use a "short-cut" route through private property, the department had set a dangerous precedent.

"It was previously planned to go through the property of C. W. Mulloy, but our solicitor could not reach an agreement with him," Acting-Mayor J. A. Knowles, head of the waterworks department, stated. "We got a bill of easement permitting us to go through the property of Mrs. E. M. Elliott. It is signed and we will have to pass payment for $100."

"We will save between $800 and $1,000 or about 500 feet of pipe. I think the $100 easement was good business," he concluded.

"Where was your precedent for that?" asked Mr. Stuart.

"You could not go through my property for $100," said Councillor Dr. E. J. Henderson.

"We have a right of way through," said Mr. Stuart. "I think it is a pretty expensive bill. As a business man, I think that if you spend $100 to save a thousand, it is good business," said the acting-mayor. "In fairness to the rest of my committee, I think they did a pretty fair stroke of business, and I am willing to run the chance of criticism. If we had waited much longer, perhaps we could not have got through."

"You could just have said, 'We are going through,' and they could not stop you," said Mr. Stuart.

"Could we have an opinion from the solicitor?" asked Councillor A. J. Wilson.

"If the party would not allow us to go through the property you would have to go to court and the court would allow compensation to the property owner," said Solicitor Lorne C. Lee.

"What would court proceedings cost," asked Mr. Wilson.

"The proceedings themselves might have cost as much as $100," replied the solicitor.

"If the property-owner gets an injunction to stop you, what happens?" asked Councillor C. E. Sparks.

"You would have to stop," the solicitor said.

"If you never do any worse than that it is good business," said Mr. Henderson.

"It is a dangerous precedent," said Mr. Stuart, and asked for the "ayes" and "nays." Mr. Stuart was the only "nay."

WILL SPEND $900 ON METCALFE ST. WIRE

Re-wiring of electric light lines along Metcalfe St., as outlined to council on Monday night by Councillor Ross Linton, of the electric light committee, will be done at a cost of $900, $200 of which represents labor cost and the balance, materials.

Council approved the report, which suggested the use of Bell Telephone Company poles, thus eliminating some unsightly poles and adding to the good appearance of the street.

The telephone company intends to make use of town poles in another section of town, later on, Mr. Linton announced.

Nomination Meeting Called For May 26th

TOWN TO HAVE TWO HOLIDAYS AND NOMINATION, ALL IN ONE WEEK

Called primarily for the purpose of arranging a new nomination meeting for mayor, the council meeting on Monday saw little contentious matter placed before it, and set a new record for brevity when the motion to adjourn came at the comparatively early hour of 10:30.

The nominations for mayor will be held in Mechanics' hall on Friday evening, May 26, thus giving Aurora a three-star week, with the holidays May 22 and May 24.

Elections, if any, will be held on June 2, the council decided. There was no further discussion concerning the election, and it was evident that if there were an election, it would be only for mayor.

Evident, too, was the fact that no member of the present council will run for mayor because, in order to do so, he would first have to resign at a regular meeting of council.

While rumor has brought forth the names of several possible candidates, H. J. Morton is the only one who has openly announced his willingness to run. Some members of council have been seeking another delegate, however, and there is every likelihood of a contest.

Audience And Musicians Both Delight Adjudicators

EFFICIENCY OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IS WARMLY PRAISED

"In this jitter-bug age it is interesting to see the interest shown here," Dr. Harvey Robb, London, told those present at the York Musical Festival last week. Dr. Robb was adjudicator of the piano classes. "The contestants are developing something in their own characters that is going to stay with them through life," he said.

"I am delighted to see such a goodly audience," stated Frank Blatchford, Toronto, adjudicator in the string sections, in presenting the violin scholarship to Mavis Bailey of Weston.

"I note with pleasure the increase in interest this year," said Dr. C. R. Boulding, president of the festival. "I am happy that the festival is held here, but it is not Aurora's festival. It belongs to York county."

On Friday evening Mildred Follett, 20-year-old Temperanceville organist, received the vocal scholarship. The piano scholarship was awarded to Ronald Stokes, Mount Dennis.

Detailed results were as follows: Thursday afternoon reading classes—Grade 3 (recitation): Mary Stinson, Rawlinson, 87; Valerie Hunter, Tottenham, 80; Douglas Hewton, Mimico, 75.

Grade 4 (recitation): Betty Dolly Jewett, Milliken, 75; Margaret Goulding, Elgin Mills, 72.

Tannery, Foundry Change Minds Council Too, On May 22 Holiday

SISMAN FACTORY WORK- ING OVERTIME, COUNCIL'S DISCUSSION REVEALS

A change of mind on the part of tannery and foundry officials concerning observance of the day of the king and queen's visit in Toronto has resulted in council changing its plans, too.

The original proclamation, which called for a half-day holiday on May 22, has been replaced by one naming the day as a full holiday.

"It's a kind of a fizzle, and it's not our fault," stated Councillor Dr. E. J. Henderson. "We made the proclamation to co-operate with the factories and the schools."

Both foundry and tannery had altered their plans and would have an all-day holiday, it was stated. The Sisman shoe plant is enjoying a rush of business and is operating three nights a week additional time, discussion revealed.

"How will it affect the schools?" asked Deputy-Reeve L. K. Farr.

"A teacher said to me, 'Don't you think there is enough discipline in the schools to get the pupils there when we want them?'" said Councillor John Stuart.

Acting-Mayor Knowles said that he had been in touch with the principals of the schools before voting for a half-holiday.

"Why not go ahead and proclaim the holiday and forget about it," suggested Mr. Linton.

"How do you feel about it?" Dr. Henderson asked the acting-mayor.

"I feel foolish, because the factory men said first one thing and now another," he replied.

"Either way, it wouldn't make any difference," said the deputy-revee.

"The same with me," Dr. Henderson said.

"I think the proclamation should be put in both papers," said the acting-mayor.

"No," said Mr. Stuart. "I think we should stick to the local paper."

"I think the other one is rapidly getting to be a local institution," commented Councillor Wilson.

"We will have to have bills," said Mr. Stuart. "You will have your name on them for once, anyway," he told the acting-mayor.

BUILDS ROCKERY

A rockery garden, complete with fish pond, mill wheel and miniature stream is nearing completion in front of the Cousins Dairy on Yonge St.

FRANK ROWE NAMED AS NEW FIRE CHIEF

Frank Rowe is now fire chief in fact as well as in name, as a result of a report brought in by Councillor J. Stuart, head of the fire and by-laws committee of council, on Monday night.

It was recommended that Fred Browning, former chief, be made honorary chief of the fire department, in recognition of his long years of faithful service.

"The illness of Mr. Browning, of several years' duration, had made it advisable to make Frank Rowe fire chief, instead of acting fire chief."

The report was approved by council, and adopted on motion of Councillors Wilson and Linton.

TENNIS COURTS ARE IN FINE CONDITION

Although the courts are in splendid condition and a fair group of players is turning out each night, cool weather has held down the membership list of the Aurora Tennis Club. The club can accommodate a great many more members than have at present signed up, it is learned, and a fine program is being planned to keep the club up to the active standard it maintained last year.

Players from Toronto and Uxbridge are expected to visit the local courts within the next week.

EVERESLEY KING PUPILS WIN ORATORY CONTEST

The farmers have had a busy time with the seeding, but in most cases they have finished. A warm rain would be welcome. Gardening and housecleaning are keeping the women busy, and no public activities have been on the go during the past week.

Sunday, being Mother's Day, the church family came out in goodly numbers, not to mention in goodly array, as is becoming in the merry month of May.

The printed service was used and the Sunday-school occupied the centre pews. The choir sang a Mother's Day hymn. Mr. Rolling, superintendent of the Sunday-school, assisted in part of the service, and Rev. M. E. Burch preached a wonderful sermon. Flowers decorated the desk and table, and a basket of snapdragons and sweet peas were on the front of the pulpit.

Tommy Williams of Harrison was present for Mother's Day, a guest of Mrs. Donald Ransom.

Friends were glad to have Edith Boylark back again after her illness. In the afternoon, Prof. and Mrs. W. S. Ferguson, Gordon and Misses Marguerite Trollope and Katherine Schillinger, called at "Scots Wha Hae" on their way down from Island Grove, where they had been opening their summer home, "Kilkaron Lodge."

On Thursday, May 4, at the senior and Junior oratorical contest held in Aurora high school, Betty Ball of Eversley won first place in the senior contest. Her theme was "Pauline Johnson," Ontario's Indian songstress.

As part of her oration, Betty recited two of Pauline Johnson's poems, "British Born" and "The Roaring Song." Betty has won honor upon honor in oratory and her name will be emblazoned on the high school shield.

Doris Hollingshead of Kilmory, a pupil of W. Rolling in the past years, won the oratory contest for the juniors. She also is a famed orator. So "Three Cheers for King!" and "Three Cheers for His Majesty King George VI."

Eversley W. A. is planning a church anniversary on June 25 and a strawberry festival on the following Tuesday.

Every Call is URGENT!

A fire alarm means action: instant action! To the firemen, as to the telephone people, each day "relentlessly chops out its grist of accidents and emergencies".

Only a few of the 5,600,000 telephone calls handled daily in Ontario and Quebec come from people in desperate danger.

But all calls must go through at split-second speed. This requires the highest standard of telephone plant, a highly-trained personnel and never-ending research.

Your Telephone organization, like your fire department, is prepared for anything—anytime. It mobilizes men and resources for emergencies like blizzards, storms and floods. Special technicians quickly arrange telephone conferences, traffic surveys, international hook-ups.

And no matter what the situation, there is always instant attention from "the voice with a smile."

Linemen on the Frontier fight desperately against wind and weather, freezing sleet and blinding storms. Able to keep the lines clear, because your call must go through, is our whole organization of operators, technicians, plant engineers, service men and general staff. Every day five million telephone calls travel over the voice-ways of Ontario and Quebec.

KESWICK GIRLS TAKE PART IN CONFERENCE

The Mother's Day program at the United church Sunday-school on Sunday was in the charge of Roy Pollock. Miss Eula Pollock was pianist for the hymns and special selection sung by the C.G.I.T. "Now we unite to pledge a new allegiance." Miss Joan Peel told a very fine story.

Rev. Mr. Fockler was in charge of both services on Sunday. In the morning the regular choir sang a special number, with Mrs. G. E. E. Norton as soloist, and the ladies of the choir singing the chorus, and in the evening a special C.G.I.T. choir, with the leaders, Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Pim, in charge, sang several very splendid selections. Miss Muriel Willoughby was organist.

A baptismal service was observed in the morning, when the following were christened: Eileen Doris Maude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Weaver; Gertrude Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Stiles; Marion Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer King; Lowell Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peters.

Mr. Fockler's morning address centred around a lovely poem.
